

Days out in London

If you are receipt of universal credit, over the summer holidays you will be able to visit the following places in London from as little as £1.00, for up to six members of your household. Some attractions, but not all, allow other benefits such as Job seekers allowance, working tax credit, child tax credit, pension credit, employment support allowance and income support. Check attractions website for details.

Some attractions also offer 50% of food with your tickets.

Please note:

- Tickets will need to be bought online and in advance
- You will need to provide a proof of benefit letter, as well as a photo ID.

Place	Cost	Amount of tickets	Pre-booking Required
London Zoo	£3.00 each	6 per household	Yes
Tower of London	£1.00 each	6 per household	Yes
Kensington Place	£1.00 each	6 per household	Yes
RHS Wisley	£1.00 each	6 per household	Yes
Kew Gardens	£1.00 each	6 per household	Yes
Westminster Abbey	£8.00 each	One adult and One child	Yes
Hampton Court Palace	£1.00 each	6 per household	Yes
Natural History Museum	Free	-	No
V & A Museum	Free	-	No
Science Museum	Free	-	No
British Museum	Free	-	No
National Portrait Gallery	Free	-	No
National Gallery	Free	-	No
Imperial War Museum	Free	-	No
Tate Britain	Free	-	No
Tate Modern	Free	-	No
Bank of England Museum	Free	-	No
Royal Hospital Chelsea	Free	-	No
V & A of Childhood	Free	-	No